

Spaced Out

Real estate matters on Long Island

Huntington corner goes for $8.6M

Tue, May 12, 2009

Featured posts, Real Estate

A retail building on one of Long Island's busiest corners has sold for $8.6 million.

Located on the northwest corner of Jericho Turnpike and Route 110 in Huntington, the 22,500-square-foot building is net-leased to Chase Bank, which sublets a majority of the space to Staples.

Adam Silber, Frank Caporrino, and Adam Shapiro of Syosset-based Silber Investment Properties represented buyer and seller, both private investors.

 Huntington, Silber Investment Properties

This post was written by:

David Winzelberg - who has written 517 posts on Spaced Out

 Contact the author

Leave a Reply

Name (required)

Mail (will not be published) (required)

Website